Space ABC

A is for Apollo, a space mission's name, Landing on the moon
was its fame.

B is for Black Hole,
brave, and bold,
Floating in the cosmos,
stories yet untold.

C is for Constellations, designs in the sky.

We connect the stars,
drawing lines up high.

D is for Docking,
spaceships meet,
In the middle of the galaxy, isn't that neat?

E is for Earth, our beautiful sphere,
In space, it's our home we hold dear.

F is for Future, where space travel will grow.
In rocket ships, off to the stars we'll go.

G is for Gravity, it holds us tight,
Helps earth orbit round
the sun so bright.

H is for Hydrogen, a star
ingredient in space,
Fueling suns and galaxies
in every place.

I is for Infinity, that's how big space seems,

At night when you're looking up, lost in dreams.

J is for Jupiter, big and round,
It's the largest planet
that we've found.

K is for Kilonova, a cosmic light show, Bursting with color, in the universe's flow.

L is for Launch, blasting rockets high, Soaring towards the star-dotted sky.

M is for Mars, red and round.
In its dust, water may be found.

N is for NASA, exploring every height,
Their astronauts and rockets make us
brim with delight.

O is for Ozone, a layer
so thin,
Protecting our earth, tucked safely within.

P is for Pluto, once a big star,
But now it's a dwarf planet, quite bizarre!

Q is for the Quark, so tiny and so small.
It makes up everything; planets, stars,
us all!

R is for Rocket, zipping
so far.
Whizzing past planets and stars with a roar.

S is for Satellite, orbiting high, Sending us signals from up in the sky.

T is for Telescope, used to see high,
Gazing planets and stars up in the sky.

U is for Universe, where many stars gleam.

It's filled with wonders,
as vast as a dream.

V is for Vortex, a swirling space storm,
Twirling and whirling in a chaotic form.

W is for Weightlessness, floating free,
just you and me, feeling effortlessly.

X is for Xenon, a gas found in space.
Without it, the stars wouldn't have their grace.

Y is for Yearning, to explore beyond,
In our cosmic pond, a wish so fond.

Z is for Zenith, highest point in the night sky.
It makes the astronauts feel very high.
