Dino's Beautiful Feathers

Ririro

Once upon a time, in a land far, far away, there lived a small dinosaur with bright, colourful feathers. His name was Dino, and he lived in a lush, green forest with all his animal friends.

Dino was a happy little dinosaur, but he didn't have any dinosaur friends. He was often teased by the other dinosaurs because of his bright feathers. They would call him names like "Peacock" and "Parrot," and they would always make fun of him for being different. So he spend most of his time alone or with other animals.

But Dino didn't let the teasing get him down. He knew that he was special, and he loved his feathers just the way they were. In fact, he was very proud of them!

One day, a group of mean dinosaurs started teasing Dino and trying to pluck out his feathers. But Dino didn't want to fight. He just wanted to be friends with everyone.

So, he ran away from the mean dinosaurs and found a beautiful meadow filled with flowers. As he was running, his bright feathers caught the attention of a group of friendly dinosaurs who lived in the meadow.

These dinosaurs were kind and welcoming, and they loved Dino's bright feathers. They asked him to stay with them and be their friend, and Dino happily agreed.

From then on, Dino lived happily in the meadow with his new friends, and he never had to worry about being teased again. He loved showing off his bright feathers and using them to make beautiful art.

And the moral of the story is: it's okay to be different and to be proud of who you are. Just surround yourself with friends who accept and love you for who you are.
