Sledding on a Leaf

Ririro

Once upon a time, in a land covered in snow, there lived a group of snowflakes. These snowflakes were all very different from one another. Some were small and delicate, while others were large and fluffy.

One day, the snowflakes were all gathered together, excitedly chatting about their plans for the day. Suddenly, one of the snowflakes raised her hand and said, "Hey guys, let's go sledding!"

The other snowflakes were all very excited at the idea, and they quickly made their way to the nearest hill. But when they got there, they realized that they didn't have anything to sled on.

"What are we going to do?" asked one of the snowflakes. "We can't go sledding without a sled!"

"I know," said another snowflake, "let's use a leaf!"

The other snowflakes all laughed at the idea, but then they realized that it was actually a pretty good one. So they quickly gathered up some leaves and started sledding down the hill.

At first, it was a little bumpy, but they soon got the hang of it and were having a great time. They laughed and shouted as they zoomed down the hill, leaving a trail of snow in their wake. But then, disaster struck! One of the snowflakes lost control of her leaf and went careening off the side of the hill. She tumbled and rolled, landing in a pile of snow at the bottom of the hill.

"Are you okay?" the other snowflakes asked, rushing to her side.

"I'm fine," she said, laughing. "But I think I need a bigger leaf next time!"

The other snowflakes all laughed with her and they continued sledding, having the best time of their lives. And they all lived happily ever after.
